

JULY
12-15,
2021

SUMMER INSTITUTE

For History and Agriculture Teachers from Rural and Urban Missouri

Lange, Dorothea, photographer. Destitute pea pickers in California. Mother of seven children. Age thirty-two. Nipomo, California. California Nipomo San Luis Obispo County United States, 1936. Feb. or Mar. Photograph. <https://www.loc.gov/item/2017762891/>.

MOICHE
MISSOURI COUNCIL for HISTORY EDUCATION

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
TEACHING WITH PRIMARY SOURCES
Consortium Member

Common Ground: Farms, Cities and Food Security During the Great Depression

- ◆ A 4-Day Residential Institute at the University of Missouri-Columbia (rescheduled from last year)
- ◆ Participants will receive a $400 Stipend
- ◆ Work with teachers from across the state to develop lessons using materials from the Library of Congress to teach agricultural and environmental history

TO APPLY: Email robgood82@gmail.com

Application deadline: April 16, 2021

PARTICIPANT APPLICATION

Common Ground: Farms, Cities and Food Security During the Great Depression
July 12-15, 2021, University of Missouri--Columbia

Name _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Address _____

School and School District _____

Subject(s) You Teach _____

Years of Experience _____ Is your school community more urban or rural? _____

Please answer the following questions. You can write your answers on a separate sheet of paper.

Briefly describe what interests you about this summer institute.

Briefly explain how you will apply what you learn in your teaching practice.

Please discuss ways you will be able to share what you learn with other teachers.

Please read and sign below

Teachers selected to participate are expected to read two books prior to the institute, arrange their own transportation to Columbia, attend all institute activities, and submit a completed lesson plan before they receive their $400 stipend. Please sign below to acknowledge you understand these expectations.

Name _____ Date _____

Please email this form to Rob Good at robgood82@gmail.com or mail to 6439 Lloyd Ave, St. Louis, MO 63139. All applications must be submitted by April 16, 2021.